

S-219 - Ignition Operations Class

Camp Pendleton Fire & Rescue Services

Instructor:

Battalion Chief Jeff Brand
(ret.) – CAL FIRE

Battalion Chief Jeff Brand is a 35-year veteran of the California Fire Service. He is a qualified Air Attack Officer, Incident Commander, Operations Section Chief, and Safety Officer. He has extensive background in large incident command management.

Chief Brand instructs for Elite Command Training and was the Chief Investigator of the Esperanza Firefighter fatality and a member of CAL FIRE's Wildland Urban Interface working group that helped restructure the "new" WUI tactics and decision-making guidelines.

If you have not been in a class with Chief Jeff Brand then you don't know what you're missing. Sign up now to further your fire service educational experience.

Chief Brand will provide you with the necessary skill sets to improve your abilities through numerous live firing devices for the Wildland Urban Interface Firefighting.

Presented By: Elite Command Training & Camp Pendleton Fire/Rescue

S- 219 Ignition Operations Class

June 3 – 5, 2019

$385.00 student registration

VERY IMPORTANT: The firing day will be on JUNE 5 and will be determined by the instructor after evaluation of the current and predicted weather conditions within the burn plan guidelines. Firing day is NOT guaranteed; personnel safety and current weather conditions will be the determining factors!

Students participating in the firing exercise will be with instructor guidance/mentoring and shall bring the following wildland PPE's with you: helmet, fire shelter, eye protection, brush gloves, nomex jacket, pants, work boots (no open toe or tennis shoes allowed), no short pants.

Students will need to show drivers license and fire department ID at the checkpoint main gate entrance.

Registration On-Line Now!!

www.elitecommandtraining.com

Class Location:

Pacific Views Event Center
202850 San Jacinto Road
Oceanside, Ca. 92058

Contact for questions: 626-290-6007